Sale of a portion of land in the

our term over
Mukhan

Beligali tank & Bangalore H.

The Alahakal under this tank is about 19 Khadris ^{appeared at No 222-15-6.} The whole of this extent seems to be under cultivation.

The new Hullalli channel is at a short distance from this tank. A sluice in it feeds the tank which has also its own independent catchment. The constant flow of water from that sluice filled the tank to overflowing and even led to an apprehension of danger to the tank. This led to a correspondence between the Revenue & P.W. authorities with the result that the latter suggested the breaching of the tank & the granting of its bed (about 25 acres) for cultivation ^{that the tank was a Kuppalya and} on the ground that both the bed & the Alahakal could be irrigated by water drawn from the Hullalli channel.

The ryots occupying the Alahakal are opposed to this suggestion being given effect to. They contend that the lands in the ^{only} source of water supply to the cattle of the village. The Amthar however states that the fence being close by there is no force whatever in this contention. The p. 40 to further allege that the lands would be useful for their lands when the water in the channel should fail. Lastly they pray for the early repair of the sluice of the lands which is now out of order & which does not therefore act satisfactorily. The Dy Comm agrees with the Executive Engineer & recommends the breaching of the lands.

Ordered Bd 12 for orders.

If the requisite supply could be guaranteed from the channel, the present proposal may be approved. On this point, the head of the B. & W. may be consulted with advantage before the issue of final orders.

Revenue and General Depts

Sir,

I have the honor to report that Biligali tank, registered No 13, in the 32nd mile of the Hulhalli channel in the Nanjangud Taluk has become useless since the lands under it measuring $19 \frac{1}{2} - 3 \frac{1}{2} - 8$ and assessed at Rs 222-15-6 can be irrigated from the channel.
Its bed consists of rich soil and measures about 25 acres. If sanction is accorded to the breaching of the tank the bed will be divided into convenient blocks and sold by public auction.--

2. The Executive Engineer of the Mysore Division informs me that the tank is not necessary and ^{that it} may be breached; the bed being given out for cultivation. The tank is situated in front of the Biligali village and the villagers state

state that the tank will be useful to them in case the water in the channel should fail. This does not appear to be a good ground for the retention of the tank, as the Hulhalli channel and Kapila river are within a distance of about half a mile and two furlongs respectively from the village.

3. The file of vernacular records on the subject is herewith submitted. —
